Established in 2007, Europa Fork Lift Training recently decided to expand their business into the health and safety training sector. Part of the expansion plans involved upgrading and extending their training centre offices in Redditch, Worcestershire.

Local company Centaur Manufacturing specialists in uPVC cable management products supplied its ACD 4 range of three compartment dado trunking which proved ideal for accommodating all power, voice and data cabling throughout. Manufacturers for over 45 years Centaur have developed many ranges of uPVC and aluminium cable management products with many specialist fittings, such as connectors to reduce from three compartment dado down to the various sizes of mini-trunking.

Additionally, Centaur were able to provide blue mini trunking to match their corporate colour. “The ability to supply this as a special and the attention to detail was impressive” said managing director, Clive Cheetham.
